COUNCIL GRANTS PERMIT FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Cost of New High School Plant Well Within Estimate of $600,000

Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

New Los Angeles Playground will Greatly Benefit Glendale's Young People

ANNOUNCEMENT was made yesterday that the city of Los Angeles would establish a playground just south of the Los Angeles river and near Glendale boulevard.

This playground will be of more benefit to Glendale on account of its location than to most any residence part of Los Angeles.

According to the announcement the playground is to be quite extensive, spreading over 22 acres of ground. One hundred thousand dollars is to be spent on equipment and the laying out of baseball fields, tennis courts, and other playground facilities, including two swimming pools.

* * *

GLENDALE is indeed fortunate in being able to share with the city of Los Angeles her parks and playgrounds—otherwise we would be in a poor way as regards recreation facilities.

This proposed new playground will undoubtedly be much appreciated by the Glendale young people, but it should not be allowed to influence us in regard to securing some of these facilities ourselves.

Glendale in the not far distant future will be a fair-sized city and of necessity must have some facilities to take care of the activities of the youth. If we fail to make some provision it will mean that the Glendale young people will go elsewhere for their recreation.

* * *

OF COURSE we do not recommend any action at this time, but some thought might be given the matter, so when the proper time comes prompt action will be possible.

AS AN aftermath of the airplane ride over the burned hills area given to Supervisor Wright by Dr. T. C. Young yesterday, word comes today that $1500 has been set aside to furnish temporary relief from the floods coming down the canyons.

* * *

CHECK dams will be constructed which, while not holding back any great amount of water, will take care of most of the sediment which in the past has spread over the streets. While $1500 will not go very far in taking care of this work, it demonstrates the fact that the supervisors are looking our way and probably before long some of the money we have been paying in taxes during the past years for flood control will be spent for our benefit.

ENTERTAINMENT BY ELKS' LODGE IS GREAT SUCCESS

Every seat in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse was taken at the big entertainment put on Thursday night by the Glendale lodge of Elks, No. 1289 for the benefit of its Christmas charity fund. Beginning at 8 o'clock the program opened with a group of selections by the Elks' Jazz orchestra. The other numbers included a rube act by a professional monologist; tenor solo by Elia Faggioli, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Faggioli; soprano solo by Mme. Teodora Wisniewski, accompanied by Mrs. Faggioli; sleight-of-hand act; Italian trio, including two instrumentalists and one vocalist; playlet by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lingham; comedy act by Billy Fay.

After the program dancing was held in the ballroom until midnight. Music was furnished by the Elks' Jazz orchestra. During the evening refreshments of punch and wafers were served.

APPROPRIATION FOR CHECK DAMS ASSURED C. OF C.

The chamber of commerce committee on fire prevention and flood control met with the county flood control engineer this morning and after presenting to him the urgent need of immediate relief against possible floods in the mountains, secured the promise of a temporary appropriation of $1500 to be available as soon as formal request for same is made by the city council. This is to start the work of putting check dams in all the canyons in Glendale's limits to catch the sediment that would otherwise wash down upon the streets. More funds will be allowed if necessary to complete the work.

COST OF HI SCHOOL PLANT TO BE WELL WITHIN ESTIMATE

Contract for the Lighting Fixtures Was Divided Between Two Firms

Glendale Union High school's new plant, according to present indications, will not cost over $600,000.

The High school board of trustees last night expressed satisfaction over the fact that $8,844.31 of the funds received from the bonds is still unspent while all of the principal contracts have been taken into account. Of course the failure of the second bond issue made it impossible to include shops or gymnasiums.

Plans for the first unit of the bleachers were approved. This will be a reinforced concrete uncovered structure, about 90 feet long and 50 feet wide, which will be placed at the west end of the athletic field. Underneath will be placed showers and a dressing room, the sides of which will be lined with lockers. Seats will be provided on the top for 1200 spectators.

Contracts for the purchase and installation of lighting fixtures has been divided. The Schweitzer-Alexander company of Los Angeles will put in the especially constructed fixtures for the auditorium, library, front hall and on either side of the front entrance at a cost of $1450, The J. A. Newton Electric company of 156 South Brand boulevard will install the classroom and corridor fixtures. These will cost $4389.95.

The fixture selected is knownn as the "duplex-a-lite" and was chosen because of the eye comfort it affords. It is manufactured by the Ed Miller company of Merriden, Conn., a subsidiary plant of the General Electric company, and instructions are going forward to rush shipment of the necessary fixtures at once.

Bids for stage equipment and gas stoves were received but no action was taken. An order was placed with the Hayward-Wakefield company of Los Angeles for 684 Vienno chairs.

ARMISTICE DAY ASSEMBLIES AT HIGH SCHOOL

Armistice day assemblies were held at noon today at Glendale Union High school.

K. J. Scudder, head of the Los Angeles branch of the Veterans' Bureau, was introduced by Chalmer D. Day of 520 East Elk, commander of the local post of the American Legion.

The local department of the Veterans' Bureau, according to Mr. Scudder, is spending $5,000,000 in relief work for ex-service men. It has a personnel numbering 225.

Vocational training, in Mr. Scudder's opinion, increases the earning capacity of many disabled men over what it was before they entered the service. He stated that the aim is to avoid giving general training but rather to train the men for specific occupations.

Vocational training has been requested by 665,800 veterans and offered to 327,800. Over 169,200 have commenced the training and 73,000 are now training, while 47,000 have been rehabilitated.

"There is no one here who regrets that the United States entered the war in 1917," remarked Mr. Scudder. "We are proud that America had the opportunity.

"We hear a great deal today that we will have no more wars, that it isn't necessary to be prepared, that we can sit back with folded hands and rest easy. I am not an advocate of a strong army and navy, but I do believe that there is a rational view.

"A good deal depends upon the impression you make upon the other fellow. We can't afford to make the wrong impression; we must be prepared for the emergency."

"America" was sung by the students. Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, head of the music department, led the orchestra which played "Democracy Triumphant."

ROYAL NEIGHBORS MEET TONIGHT IN K. P. HALL

Glendale Royal Neighbors will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the K. P. hall, corner of South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. All visiting members are invited to attend. Mrs. H. L. Hock, oracle, will preside.

PROCLAMATION

Five short years ago this nation was engaged in a desperate war, the greatest of its history. Millions of our boys were under arms with thousands of casualties daily. Then came the Armistice, and a wave of joy swept over the land when the glad news came that no more of our boys would be sacrified upon the altar of war.

Armistice Day accordingly appeals most deeply to the hearts of all of our people; not alone the soldiers who fought for us, but to all the others who uncomplainingly toiled at home that the armies might be properly cared for at the front.

I therefore urge all of our merchants to close their places of business on Monday, November 12, in order that they and their employes may participate in the patriotic services of the day in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice for us. "Lest we forget."

(Signed)
SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor of Glendale.

WELFARE CHEST IS DECIDED UPON FINALLY

Beneficiaries Number 14 and Sum to Be Raised Is $40,000

In conformity with announcement, members of the board of directors of Glendale Community Welfare Chest met at the chamber of commerce Thursday evening with W. E. Hewitt presiding, and adopted the recommendations of the burget and indorsement committee for a chest of $40,000.

In submitting its report of recommendations, the committee, of which R. L. Kitterman is chairman, made it clear that it had carefully investigated all the budgets submitted by organizations desirious of being listed as beneficiaries and wherever justified had cut the amounts to such sums as would carry forward the work without crippling it but at the same time leave no surplus for waste. This action was taken, however, in only a few cases, most of the beneficiaries receiving the amounts their budgets indicated they were entitled to. The committee argued that with the overhead reduced for campaign expenses and collection more of the money contributed will be available and funds will go farther.

The committee argued, and the board agreed, that this first community chest should not exceed the minimum that will be compatible with efficient work on the part of the beneficiaries, listed as follows:

Glendale district Young Men's Christian association.
Verdugo Hills council, Boy Scouts of America.
Glendale Community Service.
Glendale Welfare bureau and council.
American Legion Auxiliary, Glendale unit 127.
Glendale chapter of American War Mothers.
Glendale chapter of American Red Cross.
Salvation Army.
Bureau of Catholic Charities.
Children's Home society of California.
Glendale Auxiliary, Children's Hospital society.
Jewish Charities.
Woman's Christian Temperance union.
Christian Circle club.

Committee members explained that their aim had been to be economical without being niggardly, and their course, as stated, received the unqualified endorsement of the board of directors, the more so because special consideration had been given by the committee to those agencies that are operating locally.

Tonight the entire organization of the campaign committee, of which A. W. Tower is chairman, is expected to meet at the chamber. This assembly will include all precinct captains and their assistants as far as enrolled. The present plans contemplate a division of the city into two divisions under generals who will name majors, colonels, captains, lieutenants, etc., to the end that every family in the city may be personally visited and given an opportunity to subscribe during the drive which will be conducted from November 19 to 24, inclusive.

ELECTRIC ENGINE IS NOW ON THE HOME RAILS

Travels From Pittsburgh to Glendale in Just Twelve Days

The Glendale and Montrose railway this morning received its new $30,000 electric locomotive.

William Nagel of 311 Geneva street, who accompanied the locomotive from the Westinghouse plant at East Pittsburgh, Pa., was kept busy today dispensing information in regard to it.

"A power house on wheels" perhaps is the most apt way of describing the new locomotive the cab of which is filled with electrical equipment. Power is furnished through four 100 horse-power motors.

The locomotive was routed over the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie to Youngstown, Ohio, then over the Erie to Chicago. Here it was transferred to the Chicago and Northwestern and then at Omaha to the Union Pacific. The entire trip was made in about twelve days.

A baptism of snow was given the cab at Chicago. Mr. Nagel did not mind the cold much as he had a small stove near his bunk. Outside of a rain storm at the entrance to Death Valley, weather during the journey was pleasant.

Many thousands of people viewed the locomotive at its various stops. On each side were large canvas signs announcing the fact that it was en route to Glendale.

Mr. Nagel took pleasure in answering the many questions in regard to Glendale and reports that many people seem mystified as to the cause of its growth.

The Westinghouse Electric company's plant was visited by Mr. Nagel, who was given a pass permitting him to see every portion of the immense establishment, which employs 20,000 persons. Twenty electric locomotives for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway were in process of manufacture.

En route east Mr. Nagel spent two weeks in Cincinnati with his sister, Miss Amelia Nagel.

HOW TO RESTORE RURAL DOCTORS TO COMMUNITIES

[By Associated Press]

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 9.—"Reasonable living conditions" are necessary to restore permanently physicians and surgeons to rural communities, Dr. H. P. Colwell of Chicage, today told the convention of the American Country Life association, in session here. Dr. Colwell is secretary of the council on medical education and hospitals of the American Medical association.

"The objectionable features of country practice," said Dr. Colwell, "are loss of well-to-do patients, long drives, bad roads, hard work, loss of income, increased expense, poorer facilities for practice, no hospitals, no libraries, no laboratories, few churches, poorer schools and loss of time or opportunity for professional or personal development.

"What wonder, therefore, that the country doctor after struggling in vain against the rising tide of difficulties finally decides to follow his disappearing clientele to the city. It is quite clear also why the young physician, after graduating from medical school, usually in debt for his medical training, prefers to, or from necessity must, remain in the city rather than go to the country.

Census figures show that of the total of physicians in the United States 63 per cent are in cities of 5,000 or greater population, leaving only 37 per cent in cities or towns of less than 5,000. In other words, in cities of 5,000 or above there is one physician for every every 541 people.

"To permanently restore doctors for rural communities requires restoration of reasonable living conditions in those districts."

BIG MEETING R. A. MASONS WILL BE TOMORROW

Biggest Event of Year to Attract Masons From Far and Near

What is expected to be one of the biggest events in Royal Arch masonry of the year will be the meeting tomorrow afternoon and evening at Glendale Masonic temple.

On this occasion 12 candidates, residents of this community, and members of the Eagle Rock Masonic lodge are to receive the Royal Arch degree in Unity chapter No. 116 at Glendale. The unusual event is particularly interesting because some of the candidates are officals of the local lodge, while others have in the past served the lodge as its master. Owing to the fact that this class includes so many Masons that are prominent in the activities of the Eagle Rock fraternity, it is expected that every Royal Arch Mason of Eagle Rock will be on hand to participate in the doings.

As an evidence of the importance of the occasion, there will be present the following grand officers: R. E. Companion Rudolph Beck, deputy grand high priest of Oxnard; R. E. Companion James B. McLees, grand scribe of San Diego; E. Companion David J. Reese, grand royal arch captain of Ventura; E. Companion James Whitcomb Brougher, grand chaplain; M. E. Companion Mattison Boyd Jones, general grand master of the second veil of the general grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the United States of America and also past grand high priest of the grand chapter of California, together with delegations from Oxnard, Ventura, Santa Paula, San Diego, Orange, Santa Ana and other localities. It had been planned to have present the grand high priest, William Penn Humphries, of San Francisco, and also the grand lecturer, Danial B. Richards, also of San Francisco, but these two officials may not be able to attend on account of other engagements.

The work of conferring the degrees will commence promptly at 1:00 o'clock and continue until 6:30, at which time dinner will be served. The officers of Unity chapter will be assisted in the afternoon by the officers from Los Angeles chapter No. 33 and Hollywood chapter No. 120. In the evening the candidates will be past masters and in honor of these brethren a most unusual program has been arranged, in that all offices will be filled by either active masters or past masters of the lodges in Eagle Rock, Burbank and Glendale.

Acting as high priest will be Mark T. Lee, master of Eagle Rock lodge; as king, Sidney S. King, master of Burbank lodge; as scribe, John S. Cleeland, master of Glendale lodge; as captain of the hosts, Ernest J. Morgan, past master of Unity lodge; as principal sojourner, Dale O. Peet, past master of Sunset lodge; as royal arch captain, Roy W. Masters, past master of Unity lodge; as master of third veil, Chas. W. McFadden, past master of Unity lodge; as master of second veil, L. D. Davidson, past master of Burbank lodge; as master of first veil, John Hartley Taylor, past master of Eagle Rock lodge; as treasurer, Godfrey Edwards, past master of Eagle Rock lodge; as secretary, Ben O. Hagen, past master of Newton lodge of Kansas; as chaplain, Frederick Baker, past master of unity lodge. Besides holding the title of past master, many of these officers are also past high priests, in this list being M. T. Lee, D. O. Peet, R. W. Masters and E. J. Morgan of Unity chapter and B. O. Hagen, a past high priest of Arkansas Valley chapter No. 27 of Newton, Kansas.

PARKING METHOD IN SOUTH END CHANGED

The method of parking automobiles on Brand and San Fernando in the southern end of the city was changed by the Glendale city council last night. It was decided that both of these strets are entirely too narrow for angle parking. The decision of the council was as follows:

There shall be parallel parking on Brand from Garfield down to San Fernando road and on San Fernando road from Los Feliz south to Brand boulevard.

PROCLAMATION

Armistice Day is very real to the heart of every true and loyal American citizen. If that day means nothing to the individual, then he cannot have true regard for the ideals and privileges which American citizenship bestows.

To every man and woman who filled that long lane from the trenches to the training camp the day is intensely full of meaning. That first Armistice Day meant to them a life and loved ones. That lane of uniform could not have existed or reached its objective without the assistance of those noble Americans who wore no uniform. As it was then a day of extreme personal joy, so may it now be a day of extreme personal pride. It is not enough that the day be observed by ex-service men and women; it is not alone their day, but it is the day of every living American.

May every business man, by closing his store, office or the like, and every other individual, voluntarily, honor the accomplishments of our own free nation and its allies.

Commander.

COUNCIL ORDERS CLERK TO CERTIFY TRUE TRANSCRIPT

Papers, Records and Files in Auto Camp Case to Be So Disposed

The only notice taken at the council meeting Thursday night of the suit filed against the city of Glendale and members of the city council under the petition for a writ of review filed by F. H. Hatfield through his attorney, W. Claire Anspach, was to instruct City Clerk A. J. Van Wie on motion of Councilman W. A. Horn "to certify a full, true and correct transcript of all of the papers, records and files of the city of Glendale, including the records of proceedings of the council of the city of Glendale in the matter of the revocation of the license and permit of F. H. Hatfield to conduct an automobile camp in the city of Glendale and cause said transcript to be delivered to the proper department of the superior court of the state of California in the city of Los Angeles on the 16th day of November, 1923, at 10 o'clock a. m., attached to writ issued out of said court."

Under the order of Judge Crail, councilmen were summoned to appear in the superior court this morning and show cause why all proceedings under the revocation of the license held by F. H. Hatfield shrould not be stayed until after the hearing of the writ of review.

FIRE THREATENS FLAT BUILDING ON WEST CERRITOS

Fire threatened to consume a two-story flat frame building at 123 West Cerritos avenue about 7:30 last night, but was extinguished after about an hour's work by the Glendale fire department.

The blaze started from an overheated water heater in the attic. A large part of the roof was ablaze when the fire fighting apparatus arrived. The total loss is about $500.

Chief A. H. Lankford made the "run" in his Buick. An engine truck from No. 2 station was accompanied by Ed Fairfield, C. Psenner and Lester Johnson. A ladder truck from No. 1 was accompanied by George Blix, Frank Kiefer and Tom Young.

The building is owned by F. W. Carroll. Some of the property owners of the vicinity think the south side fire station should have larger equipment and more firemen, so that better attention could be given to blazes.

AUTO STOLEN LAST NIGHT RECOVERED THIS MORNING

C. E. Percy of 345 North Cedar parked his car on Wilson near Brand last night while he attended the theater and when he came after it to return home it had disappeared. He at once reported the theft to the police. This forenoon it was found in front of 320 Orange Grove avenue and from the quantities of pop corn on the seats and floor it must have been borrowed by joy riders.

PERMIT FOR NEW HOSPITAL GIVEN BY CITY COUNCIL

A permit was granted by the Glendale city council last night to the Physicians' and Surgeons' hospital company for the construction of a hospital to cost about $250,000 on Laurel street between Brand and Central.

The granting of the permit was opposed by William Gould and other property owners on Laurel, who claimed that their property would be injured by the construction of a hospital at that place.

Councilman Horn, in answer to this statement said:

"I have lived in the shadow of two hospitals and have found from experience that they increase instead of decrease the value of the property around them. I feel that you have no need to worry so far as the value of your property is concerned."

"Laurel street is in the commercial district," said Councilman Davis, "and I see no way in which we can refuse this permit."

The motion to grant the permit was made by Councilman Hall and seconded by Councilman Horn. All members of the council present voted in the affirmative. Councilman Kimlin was absent.

JUDGE ARCHBALD ALLOWS AUTO CAMP TO REMAIN OPEN

Temporary Stay Granted Until Revocation Is Reviewed

The Community Auto Camp at 520 South San Fernando road today was given permission to remain open temporarily.

Judge Harry R. Archibald, sitting in Department No. 25 of the superior court, this morning issued a stay of proceedings until the court can review revocation of the municipal license for this establishment by the city council.

F. H. Hatfield, proprietor of the camp, was represented in court by Attorney W. Claire Anspach of 111 East Broadway. Assistant City Attorney Leslie R. Tarr represented the city of Glendale.

NEW TESTAMENT STORY TO DATE IN MONDAY'S ISSUE

In next Monday's edition of the Daily Press will be published all the sections of Prof. Goodspeed's translation of the New Testament that will have appeared up to Saturday night, also the regular Monday allotment. This will supply a connected story from the first, so all who have started taking the paper since November 4 may not miss any of the sections.

While opinions vary as to the worth of this new version, many preferring the original language translations such as the King James and the American Revised versions, sentiment is well nigh unanimous that the publication is worthy of approval, in that it induces Bible reading in the home, even if but for purposes of comparing this translation with the standard versions.

CENTRAL AVENUE P.-T. A. HAS GOOD MEETING

Regular meeting of the Central avenue Parent-Teacher association was held at 3:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. L. Young presiding. D. F. Reichard gave a very interesting talk on "Home Gardening," which was followed by a round-table discussion of methods, tools, etc. The Girls' Glee club of the High school gave a group of vocal numbers.

Miss Annie MacIntyre, principal of the Central avenue school, spoke on "American Education," and told of the Glendale program in celebration of American Education week from November 18 to 24. On taking the room count for the largest percentage of mothers present at yesterday's meeting, the first prize went to Miss Libsey's room, the kindergarten, and the second prize went to Miss Edward's room, the sixth grade. At the close of the afternoon, refreshments were served. An interesting exhibition of prints, etchings and aqua tints is on display at the school.

COUNCIL GIVES US A REAL CIRCUS FOR NOV. 15

Also Passes Ordinances and Resolutions, Transfers Funds

That there are two thoroughfares in Glendale known as Mountain street was the statement made in a communication from Morgan N. Smith, 2014 Mountain street, to the Glendale city council Thursday night. One starts at Central avenue and runs east through the Bellehurst tract. The other starts at the north end of Grand View and runs west into Burbank. The continuation of this street in Burbank is known as Sunset Canyon drive. That it is difficult to find any number on Mountain street on account of this duplication of street names, is claimed.

Although the city engineer suggested that Mountain street west of Grand View be changed temporarily to Sunset Canyon drive, the council refused to take this action. It was stated that it would be but a few months before Mountain street would be cut through all the way along the base of the Verdugo hills.

Maps of tracts Nos. 7641 and 7133 were accepted.

A permit was granted to the Golden Brothers to conduct a trained animal circus in Glendale on November 15. The application was made through the agent, Al Clarkson.

A check on the frontage represented on the petition for ornamental lights on West Broadway from Central avenue to San Fernando road showed 49-1 per cent represented, according to the city engineer. The petition was referred back to the committee, with a request that at least 50 per cent of the frontage be secured.

Applications of Corliss L. Reardon, 1506 Gardena, and Mrs. D. F. Hess, 108 South Cedar for a permit to care for children, were denied.

It was announced that sealed bids for one automatic induction regulator and a constant moving coil, for use by the public service department, will be received until 7 o'clock on Thursday, November 22.

A contract was ordered signed with Charles A. Litchfield for the dumping of cans and other non-perishable rubbish on the grounds of the latter. In return for this privilege, Glendale agrees to level off the property as rapidly as the fill is made.

On motion of Councilman Hall $600 was transferred from the street repair fund to the salary division of the building department, this being for the payment of the salary of the additional plumbing inspector.

Also on motion of Councilman Hall $600 was ordered transferred from the street repair fund to the salary division of the sanitary department for payment of the salary of the barbage inspector.

On motion of Councilman Davis the position of industrial inspector was declared vacant.

There were no protests against the improvement of Monterey road and the next step in this work was ordered taken.

The following ordinances were adopted:

An ordinance regulating the dispensary.

An ordinance of intention for the opening and widening of Windsor road and Garfield avenue, east of Verdugo road.

An ordinance establishing the grade on Windsor road, Garfield avenue and Los Angeles street.

The following resolutions were adopted:

A resolution ordering the improvement of Monterey road.

A resolution adopting mats and plats in the office of the city engineer.

A resolution of intention for the improvement of Hill drive.

On motion of Councilman Davis the city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance regulating automatic vending machines in the city of Glendale.

Frank R. Moser was granted the contract for the improvement of Alameda avenue.

Editorials by the People

Editor Glendale Daily Press:

I wish to commend most heartily an article on page 4 of last night's Press. It was entitled "City Parks." May I quote a little from it. "Never yet has a city grown to considerable size without having had to provide itself with parks, often at great cost. The city that attends to this matter far in advance is wise. In the early stages of growth there is abundant area to be had cheaply. Later this same area may have to be condemned, the process costing millions of dollars." One of the best investments that the city of Glendale could make today would be to purchase the block bounded by Hawthorne, Harvard, Orange and Central avenue. This block is centrally located, has no buildings facing on Central avenue, only two small ones on Harvard, none on Orange and those on Hawthorne could be profitably moved to other sites. With a band stand in the center and the grounds beautified with grass, shrubs and flowers, we would have a breathing space and a bit of beauty. While these lots are valuable, they can never be bought as reasonably as right now. Or must we wait until, as the writer above quoted and pay several times more than the present cost? To quote further: "Parks often spoken of as breathing spots are really more than this. They are safeguards against fire. Part of the great value of Pershing square in Los Angeles lies in the protection it affords. * * * To a certain extent wide streets are similarly useful. They give safe and rapid transit and they present barriers to leaping flames. Notwithstanding this there are few cities that have been laid out with streets of proper width. There are few cities that have not had to face the necessity of doing, by the expenditures of millions, that which could have been done in the beginning at no expenditure whatever. Los Angeles is suffering because of neglect in both of these respects. Doubtless this city will in time work out its serious problems. While it is doing so the adjacent community of smaller cities some of them destined to be large, (that is us) ought to be planning to avoid such mistakes and such losses." It was such public-spirited ideas and motives that prompted several citizens to agitate for a wide and improved Central avenue. To permanently improve and benefit Glendale as a whole and incidentally enhance the abutting and nearby real estate. Fortunately the city trustees have recognized the value of this move and have instituted proceedings for its accomplishment. It is very evident to anyone driving an automobile that Central avenue needs widening and 68 feet from curb to curb is none too wide. For comparison West Broadway from Brand to Central avenue is 56 feet wide or eight feet wider than Central avenue is at present. And yet when cars are parked on either side it leaves too narrow a roadway for either safety of comfort. Does anyone regret that Brand boulevard is so wide? Or that Los Feliz road has been widened? Or that East Broadway was improved? Generally a few close-visioned ones with fancied grievances try to sit on the coat tails of progress and yell "Whoa." But when the improvement is made they, too, silently if not publicly, are glad the change is made. Postponing this needed improvement on Central avenue is not only depriving the people of the pride and pleasure of a fine, wide roadway, but will materially add to the cost later on. Both prudence and progress urge this advance step.

CLIFF CLANIN IS IN GLENDALE AGAIN, BACK ON OLD JOB

The meat department of the Valley market, recently opened at 602 South Brand, has been taken over by Clifford G. Clanin, a butcher of long experience both in Glendale and in Los Angeles. He will carry a first-class line of meats, both fresh and smoked, with a specialty of fresh fish, oysters and poultry.

The fixtures are all new and of the highest quality, installed at a great expense in order to give the best of service to his patrons. A large business should be the result of his experience and the high-class meat.

Mr. Clanin was former owner of what is now McKee's market at 1021 South Brand, and is a strong booster for Glendale, having lived here for several years.

The grocery and vegetable departments are both under the proprietorship of H. Nicolai, who carries a fine stock and guarantees fresh fruits and vegetables by a daily trip to the markets of Los Angeles. A free delivery service is maintained, reaching to all parts of Glendale.

Members of the Glendale Cat club will meet next Tuesday evening with Mrs. Fred Hendrickson, 2725 West Avenue 31, just off Verdugo road.

MAIDS AND YOUNG MATRONS DRILL AT CALESTHENICS

Visitors at the Tuesday Afternoon club house on Thursday afternoon might have gained the impression that an end-of-the-season bathing suit parade was being held. But twas not so. Merely the members of the maids and young matrons section of the club who had come appropriately attired for the calisthenics drill which preceed their regular meeting on Wednesday. Mrs. Pearl Keller Brattain directed an hour and a half's drill in the form of dance technique or calisthenics.

The drill included exercises for the foot and ankle, back, arms and various muscles of the body and was thoroughly enjoyed by the members. Mrs. C. G. Putnam, curator, had charge of the business meeting. It was announced that Mrs. Heorietta Kapp, who spoke to the section recently on "Interior Decorating," is to be the speaker on "Color Psychology," at the next meeting of the home economics section and the latter group has invited the maids and young matrons to be present.

Mrs. W. F. Macpherson announced plans for husbands' night on November 22. This will be in the form of an informal dinner party at the club and will be limited to members of the section and their husbands or escorts. After some amendments and changes the by-laws of the section were adopted.

Final details were completed for the section's booth at the Society Circus, which will be in the southeast corner of the reception room. Many attractive handmade handkerchiefs have been prepared by the section for the booth. Plans were discussed for the section's Christmas party. This will be held on December 13 at the home of Mrs. Putnam. Members are to come dressed as children and each bring a toy. After the party these toys will be taken to some children's hospital. Mrs. J. H. Toal was appointed chairman of a committee on details, which also includes Mrs. Horn, Mrs. Osborn, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg and Mrs. G. R. Postle.

At the close of the meeting refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and tea were served by the following hostesses for the afternoon: Mrs. J. J. Campbell, Mrs. E. L. Osborne, Mrs. J. Earl Osgood and Mrs. C. R. McCulloch.

CHILDREN ALLOWED TO RELEASE HOMING PIGEONS

Children of the Central avenue school were especially interested in the flock of homing pigeons which had been received by Mrs. E. E. Harwood of Roscoe, teacher of the fourth grade at the school, who gave them the pleasure of releasing them from the school grounds on Thursday morning. Mrs. Harwood received thirteen homing pigeons by parcel post from her brother at Fullerton. These were taken to the Central avenue school. In the morning all of the children assembled on the school grounds. Notes were tied to the legs of the pigeons reading "10 a. m. Greetings from Central Avenue School, Glendale." The smallest child in each room was allowed to hold a pigeon, which they released promptly at 10 o'clock. They are awaiting with keen interest word from Mrs. Harwood's brother as to what time the pigeons arrived home in Fullerton.

Truths in Epigram

No true manhood can be trained by a purely intellectual process. — Joseph Parker.

It is now generally doubted that there were anywhere near as many saints as there were lives of saints.—Swing.

Nothing useless is or low; each thing in its place is best.—Longfellow.

THE PHANTOM FORTUNE

Another dream of riches has faded. The sleepers have awakened and are wondering how they had permitted themselves to be doped into a slumber attended by visions so fabulous. These people were all in a large family group. They had entertained the pleasing notion that in the heart of an American city there awaited $600,000,000 worth of real estate belonging to them, which was to be turned over for the asking. There was a cheering legend that this property had been owned by an ancestor many generations ago. How he got rid of it was not stated. Why title had been transferred again and again without the searchers finding a cloud upon it, never was made clear. The heirs presumptive presumed that all uncertainty was to be swept away. They had chipped in a comfortable sum for the sustenance of counsel. Then came the climax. The verdict, without having gone to court or anything, was "nothing in it," Which of course everybody ought to have known in advance.

Probably there is not an American family that has not at some time been elated by the prospect of great fortune. The theory seems to be that such fortunes are tucked away for generations, and surrendered on demand to the great great grandchildren, or to cousins forty times removed. As has been stated many times the theory is baseless. Fortunes are not held indefinitely awaiting claimants. After due season they escheat to the government, and so far as the individual is concerned that is the last of them. Nevertheless many a family continues to spend in fancy the estate of which there is no possibility that it ever is to see a dollar. It is all right to build castles in Spain, but to build them in these circumstances, costs money, and the castles are not worth it.

CONCERNING FOOLISH TALK

The actual and abiding presence of prosperity is enough in itself to set up misgivings in the souls of the timid. For no other reason than that business is thriving, more people and more capital coming in, new industries being founded, resources developed, they shake their heads and opine dolorously that it can't last. There is nobody else in the world quite so silly as the habitual croaker. He is more than a mere pest, for his harping is likely to have some psychological effect.

This country has every logical right not only to such prosperity as prevails, but to entertain the belief that favorable conditions are to continue. It has great wealth, and to this it is adding constantly. Southern California possesses peculiar advantages. It is so pleasing a place to live that its charm draws a desirable class of people. Here of all places in the world the croaker ought to be ashamed to open his mouth. No other community in the United States is growing with such rapidity. Trade and construction continue on a vast and constantly expanding scale because the increase of population demands it. There is no sign of abatement in this increase. Decades must elapse before the state has received all the millions that it is capable of supporting.

Recently a newspaper at McPherson, Kan., kept tally for three days of automobile parties passing through. There were ninety of them. Of these seventy-seven were bound for California, and of these fifty-seven bound for Los Angeles. To be bound for Los Angeles means for the community of which that city is the center. Many of the travelers are coming to stay. Others now expecting to return, will change their minds after arrival. These figures give not only an indication of the westward tide, but it shows that the scale of progress here is bound to maintain its speed indefinitely.

WHY THEY LAUGHED

Two young men were convicted at Bakersfield of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to life imprisonment. "When the verdict was read both laughed heartily," says the correspondent. Previously one had bet that he would be hanged. Possibly the winning of fifty cents tended to cheer. Nevertheless, as an incentive to mirth, a life sentence would not be given a high rating usually. In this instance the explanation is comparatively easy. The prisoners were aware that they merited the extreme penalty, and that occasionally such penalty is inflicted. They also knew that a sentence to life imprisonment is little more than a formality. It is devoid of real meaning.

This circumstance calls attention again to the parole system in vogue in California, a system that goes far to deprive the courts of the power to punish crime. Whatever may be the opinion of the jury and the judge, and whatever punishment may be named as the result of trial, the actual sentence is fixed by a board at the penitentiary. Thus "one to fourteen years" means the minimum, with the addition of the short period necessary to apply for and receive parole. Of the criminals thus paroled is constituted a large part of the army of robbers and thugs which efforts are made to restrain. The system applies even to the life sentence. The lifetermer has the privilege of parole, and understands that detention is not to cover anything approaching his natural span of years.

Doubtless this is why the laughter of the two young men echoed through the court at Bakersfield.

THE TECHNICAL PLEA

Arraigned in court for carrying concealed weapons, a St. Louis defendant fas found guilty. His lawyer moved for a new trial. He admitted that the state had shown that the prisoner had a revolver, and the revolver, cartridges and the cartridges, bullets, "but," the lawyer gravely affirmed, "the state has failed to prove that the bullets had powder behind them."

If such a pleading as that is not contempt of court, as it is an insult to the legal profession and to common sense, then there is no such thing as contempt of courts. If the lawyer entertains a belief that the powder is lacking, it ought to be a pleasure to ask him to pose as a target. His absurd allegation, of course, was without merit, albeit true. The state had not proved the powder, but there could not exist the slightest reason why it should have done so.

Such incidents as this not only call for judicial rebuke, but it is strange that bar associations overlook them. The lawyer, as a sworn official of the court, and pledged to uphold the law and to forward the cause of justice, breaks obligations that he should regard as sacred, when he attempts thus to render a statutory process ridiculous and ineffective.

A lad in his teens dashing down a grade in Los Angeles collided with another driver at a cross street, killing the second driver instantly. The victim was a careful and experienced driver, moving at legal speed, and with every precaution. He left a widow and children. He had been at the head of a successful business; in fact, a useful and respected citizen. Yet a boy, evidently wholly unfit to be trusted with an automobile, but nevertheless having one, slew him. What is to be done in such a case? Perhaps the parents of the lad will deprive him of his joy wagon at least for a time.

A mother's idea of the only safe place for a boy to go swimming is in the bathtub.

THINK THIS OVER

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

The University of North Carolina makes this contribution to human knowledge, after what the university authorities call a "thoroughgoing study of spherical space and the universe, according to Einstein's general relativity theory."

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

I am omitting details and frills. They'd make your head ache and they are beside the point anyway. But we can all understand this:

"It would take a ray of light traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles per second one billion years to go around the universe. It would take the fastest airplane three quadrillion years: the fastest automobile five and one-half quadrillion years, and an express train traveling at the rate of 60 miles an hour, 11 quadrillion

Friends and fellow citizens, such is the size of our home, the place where we are doomed to dwell and about which we know nothing except what the astronomers are pleased to tell us.

The same gentlemen who made the pleasing calculations quoted above assure us that many of the fixed stars whose light we think we see have probably been dead millions of years and the light that attracts us probably started on its journey through space before the surface of our planet was cool enough for the first primitive thing to move in the hot seas surrounding it.

From musing on such figures we might with profit get a faint idea of our relative importance in this universe home of ours and of the vast insignificance of our petty ideas, the things about which we fight and over which we break our hearts and the hearts of others.

All living things are prisoners on this planet, sentenced by we know not what to make a brief pilgrimage across the speck called Earth with only one thing certain, that we shall flicker out when our journey is done.

In the face of all this we spend our years in piling up what we can't use, in trying to compel our brothers to see everything as we see it, in shedding human blood over differences in faith and animal blood to gratify our fleeting vanity, and in otherwise making our common and inevitable journey as miserable as possible for each other.

When all the time the one thing we can do to mitigate our situation is to be kind, and we can best do this by working out some kind of reliable science of human relations.

While I was reading the conclusions of the North Caroline astronomers a mite of a little flying thing lit on my magazine. He was a point of green and silver glory with great black eyes, absolutely perfect in form and color, yet no bigger than a pin head; and it seemed to me that the Great Spirit that hurled the universe into space must have loved him to make him so beautiful for his fleeting day of life.

Comparatively our day is as fleeting. Why not make it beautiful for each other?

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

This morning I started out to walk to the office, as I often do when conditions are precisely right. And, as usual a friend came along in his car and insisted on giving me a lift. And so my health suffered again. But that isn't the story.

"I've found just the man I want for my city agent," said my friend. "Name Ollie Kelly. Used to represent the Tweedle Corporation in town, but gave them up to push another brand. Didn't make much of a success of it, I hear. I think I can get him. I'll make it worth his while."

Then I got out at my office and expressed a gratitude I did not feel and went indoors and picked up the paper. The first item my eye caught was:

"Ollie Kelly commits suicide. Discouraged by business reverses——"

He had made a mistake, it is true. He had given up a sound position for what he believed would be a fortune. The man who is afraid to gamble a little bit on himself lacks confidence in himself. He had made a mistake. His ready money was almost gone and he had planned to move from the expensive apartment in which he lived with his wife to a cheaper one on a side street. He was a little more than forty years old, and therefore in the very prime of his life's dominion. He had almost all the energy of youth together with a gained experience that saved him lost motions. He could find anywhere—on every street corner—stories of men who had just begun to make good after they had passed forty and gone broke.

But he wasn't game. He couldn't stand the gaff. He weakened, poor devil, under pressure. Maybe his wife was acid. Maybe not. Perhaps she was gentle and patient and kind, and he loved her so that he died to forget. In any case, he weakened. He did not hold on. Just twenty-four hours—not that—and he would have been on solid ground again.

Any one can hold on for one more day. Just one more. Life, you know, passes just one day at a time.

JESUS REBUKES THE WINDS AND THEY ARE STILLED; HE FORGIVES MAN'S SINS

By EDGAR J. GOODSPEED

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

When Jesus heard this he was astonished, and said to his followers,

"I tell you, I have not found anyone in Israel with such faith as this. And I tell you, many will come from the east and from the west and take their places at the feast with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, in the Kingdom of Heaven, while the heirs to the kingdom will be driven into the darkness outside; there to weep and grind their teeth!"

Then Jesus said to the captain,

"Go! You shall find it just as you believe!"

And the servant was immediately cured.

Jesus went into Peter's home, and there he found Peter's mother-in-law sick in bed with fever. And he touched her hand and the fever left her, and she got up and waited on him.

In the evening they brought to him many who were possessed by demons, and he drove the spirits out with a word, and cured all who were sick, in fulfilment of the words of the prophet Isaiah, "He took our sickness and carried away our diseases."

Then Jesus, seeing a crowd about him, gave orders to cross to the other side. And a scribe came up and said to him,

"Master, I will follow you wherever you are going!"

And Jesus said to him,

"Foxes have holes and wild birds have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head!"

And another of his disciples said to him,

"Let me first go, sir, and bury my father."

But Jesus said to him,

"Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead!"

And he got into the boat, and his disciples went with him. And suddenly a terrific storm came up on the sea, so that the waves broke over the boat, but he remained asleep. And they came and woke him up, saying,

"Save us, sir! We are lost!"

And he said to them,

"Why are you afraid? You have so little faith!"

Then he got up and reproved the wind and the sea, and there was a great calm. And the men were amazed and said, "What kind of a man is this? For the very winds and sea obey him!"

When he reached the other side, in the region of Gadara, two men possessed by demons came out of the tombs and confronted him; they were so extremely violent that nobody could go along that road. And they suddenly screamed out, "What do you want of us, you Son of God! Have you come here before the appointed time to torture us?"

Now at some distance from them there was a great drove of pigs feeding. And the demons entreated him saying,

"If you are going to drive us out, send us into the drove of pigs."

And he said to them,

"Begone!"

And they came out and went into the pigs. And suddenly the whole drove rushed over the steep bank into the sea, and perished in the water. And the men who tended them ran away and went off to the town and told it all, and the news about the men possessed by demons. And the whole town came out to meet Jesus, and when they saw him they begged him to go away from their district.

So he got into the boat and crossed the sea, and returned to his own city.

Some people came bringing to him on a bed a man who was paralyzed. Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the man,

"Courage, my son! Your sins are forgiven."

Some of the scribes said to themselves,

"This man is talking blasphemy!"

Jesus knew what they were thinking, and he said,

"Why do you have such wicked thoughts in your hearts? For which is easier, to say 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up and walk'? But I would have you know that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on earth." Then he said to the paralytic,

"Get up, pick up your bed and go home!"

And he got up and went home. And when the crowd saw it, they were filled with awe, and praised God for giving such power to men.

Afterward, as Jesus was passing along, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tollhouse, and he said to him,

"Follow me!"

And he got up and followed him.

While Jesus was at home at table, a number of tax-collectors and irreligious people came in and joined Jesus and his disciples at table. And the Pharisees observed it, and they said to his disciples,

"Why does your master eat with tax-collectors and irreligious people?"

But he heard it, and said,

"It is not well people but the sick who have to have the doctor! You must go and learn what the saying means, 'It is mercy, not sacrifice, that I care for.' I did not come to invite the pious but the irreligious."

Then the disciples of John came up to him and said,

"Why is it that we and the Pharisees are keeping the fast, while your disciples are not keeping it?"

Jesus said to them,

"Can wedding guests mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? But a time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and they will fast then. But no one sews a patch of unshrunken cloth on an old coat, for the patch will tear away from the coat, and make the hole worse than ever. And people do not put new wine into old wine-skins, or if they do, the skins burst, and the wine runs out and the skins are spoiled. But people put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and so both are saved."

Just as he said this to them, an official came up and bowing low before him said to him,

"My daughter has just died. But come! Lay your hand on her and she will come to life!"

And Jesus got up and followed him, with his disciples. And a woman who had had a hemorrhage for twelve years came up behind him and touched the tassel of his cloak. For she said to herself, "If I can just touch his cloak, I will get well." And Jesus turned and saw her, and he said,

"Courage, my daughter! Your faith has cured you!"

And from that time the woman was well.

When Jesus reached the official's house, and saw the flute-players and the disturbance the crowd was making, he said,

"You must go away, for the girl is not dead; she is asleep." And they laughed at him. But when he had driven the people out, he went in and grasped her hand, and the girl got up. And the news of this spread all over that part of the country.

As Jesus was passing along from there, two blind men followed him, calling out,

"Take pity on us, you Son of David!"

When he had gone indoors, the blind men came up to him, and he said to them,

"Do you believe that I can do this?"

They said to him,

"Yes, sir."

Then he touched their eyes and said,

"You shall have what your faith expects."

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

The November meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held next Thursday afternoon at the school auditorium. Mrs. E. K. Foster of Los Angeles, head of the Juvenile Protective league of that city, will give a talk on juvenile work and a splendid Thanksgiving program will be given by the children of the school. Mrs. C. W. Ingier, president of the Parent-Teacher association, announces that all small children will be cared for during the meeting, making it possible for many mothers to attend who have felt it impossible before.

The completion of the new community church on West Montrose avenue is but a matter of days now. The dedication is announced for Sunday afternoon, November 18, at 3 o'clock. Rev. H. A. Kelso, the pastor, will be assited by Dr. W. F. Freeman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Pasadena, who will preach the dedication sermon. On Monday evening, November 19, members of the congregation will hold a public reception. At the church Wednesday evening, November 21, at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Glendale will preach and Friday evening, November 23, a benefit concert will be given, under the direction of Mrs. Ethelwyn Weaver, Mrs. Alice Stockhold Reid and Mrs. William Reid. The proceeds of the concert will go to the church building fund.

The children's party given yesterday afternoon in the school auditorium for the first, second, third and fourth grades, was one of the happy affairs of the week. The Parent-Teacher association members were hostesses. This afternoon the same organization will entertain the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. This is a new venture for the Parent-Teacher association, which is meeting with much success and no doubt will be repeated during the school session.

MONTROSE NOTES

Funeral services for the little son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Palmer were held Thursday afternoon at Glendale. Interment was in the Grand View cemetery. Little Emmett passed away Friday from the effects of ptomaine poisoning. An older boy, aged four years, was sufficiently recovered from the illness to be removed from the hospital today.

Mrs. Frank Turner of Montrose is receiving treatment at the Hanama hospital in San Francisco. Her many friends here hope for her speedy recovery.

Several days ago H. E. Carter of the firm of Carter & Griffith received word that his old friend, James Halliman and family, were on their way to Montrose in an automobile, from Oklahoma. Today word came to Mr. Carter that the Hallimans had induced three other families to join them on the trip westward. All four families will take their permanent homes here. Carter & Griffith are great boosters for our community and daily receive letters from friends whom they have induced to come here to reside. They believe in sharing the good things of life with their friends.

Mrs. C. Jacobs will leave shortly for Philadelphia, where she will visit her father, brother and sister. She expects to remain away over the holidays, returning the latter part of December to her bungalow at 324 East Honolulu.

'LEFTY' HERMAN MAKES HIS BEST OF ALL-HOME RNS

Is Wedded Today to Miss Anna Merriken, Glendale Girl

Surprising their many friends who were awaiting announcement of the date of the marriage of Miss Anna Merriken and Floyd C. (Lefty) Herman, whose engagement was recently announced, the wedding of these two young people took place at 10:30 o'clock this morning, Friday, November 9, 1923, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Merriken of 371 West Broadway.

Rev. Mullen of the Pacific Avenue church officiated at the single ring ceremony. The Merriken residence was decorated throughout with various colored chrysanthemums. The bride wore her traveling suit. She was attended by Mrs. Ira Cleeland as matron of honor. Stanley D. Herman, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Floyd C. Herman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Herman of 1610 Kirkwood avenue, Pasadena, and is a member of the Red Sox baseball team. He was formerly a student of Glendale Union high school, coming here from Buffalo, N. Y. Only immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were in attendance. A wedding breakfast had been planned to follow the ceremony, but as the friends of the young couple were "hot on their trail," they parked their automobile in a garage and took a taxi on the first lap of their honeymoon trip. On their return to Glendale next week they will move into their own home at 439 West Harvard street.

One night at a theatre some scenery took fire, and the smell of burning alarmed the audience. A panic seemed imminent when a comedian appeared on the stage.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "compose yourselves. There is no danger."

The audience did not seem reassured.

"Ladies and gentlemen," continued the comedian, rising to the occasion, "confound it all; do you think if there was any danger I'd be here?"

The panic collapsed.

GILLETTE TENT LADIES DEMAND HONOR FOR FLAG

Mrs. Gertrude Griffin, Press Correspondent, Outlines Rules

With the approach of Armistice day attention is called to the proper use of and respect for the American flag. A full code was recently adopted at an American Legion conference held in Washington, D. C.

The rules provide that the flag should fly from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as designated by proper authority on national and state holidays and historic or special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously. When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the place of the flag of the United States is on the right, or when there is a line of other flags, that of the United States may be in front of the center of the line.

When displayed with another flag, against a wall from crossed staffs, the flag of the United States should be on the right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

When a number of flags are grouped, and displayed from staffs, the flag of the United States should be in the center, or at the highest point of the group.

When flags of states or cities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter must always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the flag of the United States should be hoisted first. No flag or pennant should be placed above or to the right of the flag of the United States.

When flags of ten or more nations are to be displayed they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and should be of equal size.

When displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle, the union of the flag should go completely to the head of the staff unless the flag is at half mast.

When a flag of the United States is displayed other than flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against the wall, the union should be uppermost to the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way, i. e., with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons or draperies of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the flag.

When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

When used on a speaker's platform the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk. If flown from a staff it should be on the speaker's right.

When used in unveiling a statue or monument, the flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft.

When flown at half mast the flag is first hoisted briskly to the peak and then lowered to the half-mast position, but before lowering the flag for the day it is raised again to the peak.

On Decoration day, May 30, the flag is displayed at half staff from sunrise until noon and at full staff from noon until sunset.

When used to cover a casket, the flag should be placed so that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

When the flag is displayed in church, it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman.

When the flag is in such a condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, it should not be cast aside or used in any way that might be viewed as disrespectful to the national colors, but should be destroyed as a whole, preferably by burning or some other method in harmony with the reverence and respect owed to the emblem.

"Do not use the flag as drapery, use bunting," says one of the "don'ts." Others bar its use as covering for a ceiling, as a part of a costume, or athletic uniform, embroidered upon cushions, handkerchiefs, or printed on paper boxes.

A section of the code dealing with the salute of the flag reads: "During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when the flag is passing in parade or review, all persons present should stand at attention on facing the flag. Men's head dress should be removed with the right hand and held at the left shoulder."

Other instructions for the treatment of the nation's emblem are given by the conference, such as:

"In decorating the speaker's platform, spread the flag above and behind the speaker and do not use it for covering the table.

"In decorating an automobile fly the flag, preferably from the radiator cap. Never use it for draping the car.

"Never fly any emblem except the church pennant above the American flag.

"Never dip the colors for any reason except when saluting the flag of a foreign nation.

"For draping, etc., use colored bunting, the blue above, the white in the middle and the red below.

"Never overlap any pennant or emblem on the American flag, or display such above it or to the right of it.

"In displaying the flag in a church it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman, with the service flag, state flag or other emblems on the left wall.

"If in the chancel the flag should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation."

PATHETIC LETTER FROM JAPANESE WOMAN

Mrs. Ruby Smart wishes the attention of all W. C. T. U. members to the following letters received by Miss Gordon from Mrs. Kubushiro, who will be remembered by all who attended the world's and national W. C. T. U. conventions at Philadelphia in November, 1922.

"The government of Japan and the people are working hard to restore order. More than half of Tokyo is deserted. Over a million and a half are turned out homeless, foodless and naked. Shelter and food are looked after by the government, of course temporarily. As for clothing, we want to do something, and we are trying to get as many old clothes as possible.

"As you know, the women's way of dressing is changing rapidly, and most of the office girls, school teachers and many others are adopting foreign styles for the sake of convenience and activity. If you could take so much trouble as to send a note to all the W. C. T. U. presidents in the United States and ask them to gather second-hand clothing, dress, coat, skirt, waist, underwear, flannels, or anything, in style or out of style, we do not mind, and send them to Mrs. Shige Togasaki in San Francisco, she will send them to us by steamer. Her address is: Mrs. Shige Togasaki, 1723 Post street, San Francisco, Calif.

"There are at least one million and a half who are burned out. The fire followed immediately after the earthquake, so most of the inhabitants are literally naked. Stockings, underclothing, coats, anything will do, but the best thing is coats, strong and warm.

"Our headquarters are burned, as I wrote you in the last letter. That building was a token of your sympathy, mostly built by the money sent by Mrs. Edith Smith Davis through the W. C. T. U. of the U. S. A. And now you see, 310,000 houses being burned down, building material is very scarce and expensive. So if you decide to write to the state president for us, will you not kindly ask the states of Oregon and Washington to raise money instead of clothing and send us so much in lumber. You know the government has excused the income tax on all building material. If this fortunately could be done, then our most needed building (60x60) could be built without much trouble, and would leave a remembrance dear and strong. The new Tokyo is struggling to rise from the ruins and ashes. If the sisters abroad could lend us a helping hand at this time of need we shall never be able to thank them enough.

"The prohibition movement is not forgotten, although hundreds of posters and thousands of newly printed books are burned. We will take up the work as soon as we recover.

"Madam Yajima, Madam Kozaki and Miss Moriya are all well and send hearty greetings.

"Very sincerely yours,"
"OCHIMI KUBUSHIRO."

Contributions can be left with Mrs. Ruby Smart, 110 Olive, or Mrs. Edythe Glassey, 460 West Columbia avenue.

Henderson Wails About His Dead-and-Dying List.

Elmer E. Henderson, coach of the University of Southern California football team, is up to his old tricks. On the day before the great gridiron game with the California varsity he is moaning with despondency, telling the world that his team cannot hope to defeat the Golden Bears, and that they will lose at least 21 to 0. It was ever thus, for it was in this fashion did Henderson earn the epithet of Gloomy Gus, by which he is familiarly known throughout the football world.

Gus cries that his whole team is on the hospital list at the present time and, to quote another writer, Henderson gives out a list of "dead and dying that looks like a roster of his team." He complains that Campbell will be out of the game due to his injured ribs. Chief Newman has tonsolitis, so runs the story. Hobbs Adams cannot play due to a wrenched ankle. On and one runs the list of injuries to the U. S. C. team."

Anyone who did not know Henderson and his tricks would be apt to think that the Trojans are in for one terrible licking when they face the Bruins at the Colliseum tomorrow afternoon. But to those who are familiar with the Cardinal and Gold mentor and his crepe-hanging methods these wailings before the game mean nothing at all. As one writer terms it, Henderson is "out with his regular pre-big game squawk." The strange part of it is that no one seems to have come to the dead-and-dying team's rescue.

Henderson may squawk and yell, but we are right here with our cash to wager that when the two elevens line up tomorrow afternoon Henderson will have a team on the field that will put up a battle of which the Trojans can feel proud. The reserves seem to be in great shape, while the injuries of the regulars may be taken with a grain of salt. In spite of all moanings for phychological effect, U. S. C. will have a first-class football team on the field tomorrow and a team with which nobody can get gay. The Trojans are a dangerous team against any crew and at any time. The Bears will have to display every bit as much stuff as they did in the game last year in order to win.

SILENT SMITH

Andrew Smith, coach of the California varsity, is not following the example of his gloomy opposing mentor. If there is any dead-and-dying list, Andy is not proclaiming the fact to the world. Neither is he telling the world that he is going to lose the game by a 21 to 0 score, or at all for that matter. But then, the Bruin mentor is not announcing that he is going to win the game. He does not tell that his team is in first-class condition. This is not the policy of Andy Smith. It is his game to keep quiet, let the other fellow do the shouting or moaning, and put all his time to work. Smith will not start the team that he used against Nevada. He will start all his first string men. And take it from us, Andy will have a team on the field that will do proud to the Blue and Gold and which the University of California will be proud to call its own. The two teams will go onto the field in great shape and will put up a mighty battle—and the best team will win.

OLSON CREDITED WITH VICTORY OVER SANTEL

But It Was Under a Handicap of Two Falls

Charlie Olson, the "Terrible Swede" who is to meet Bull Montana here on Armistice day in a wrestling match, today offered evidence to refute the statements made by Harry Weber, manager of Ad Santel, who claimed in the columns of the Press yesterday that Olson did not defeat Santel, as he stated.

On April 8th of last year, Olson took on Santel twice in order to win the bout. He turned the trick once early in the affair, but was unable to repeat, and the end of the 65-minute time limit found him still struggling. So, according to the agreement, Olson was declared the winner.

This account of the bout is vouched for by the writer, who saw a copy of the Twin Falls Times for April 9, with the complete story of the affair. Although Olson did not actually best Santel, he was awarded the decision. For this reason it may be said that both men are correct in part in their contentions. Swede Olson did not best Ad Santel in actual combat, but he was awarded the decision in the match.

Teddy Biller, who defeated Freddie Klagge here Tuesday in one of the fastest boxing matches seen in the local arena, will meet Battling Ward, who has fought three draws before Glendale fans, in the semi-windup of the Glendale Athletic club bouts of Armistice day. Biller and Ward are both fast on their feet, are hard hitters, and should put up a great scrap.

COVINA MIDGETS DEFEAT CITRUS

A safety in the first quarter won yesterday's lightweight game for Covina against Citrus Union. The final score was 2 to 0.

Both elevens put up a hard battle but a fumble by Citrus early in the struggle cost them the game when a Citrus player fell on the ball behind his goal line for a safety. Budd, Rupert and Daniels starred for Covina, while Ruelan, Jones, Wolf and Williams were the outstanding players for the losers.

GLENDALE K. C. TO PLAY VAN NUYS HERE ON SUNDAY

The Van Nuys team will come to Glendale Sunday to play the Glendale K. C. team at the local grounds, Park avenue and San Fernando road, in the second game of the San Fernando Valley Winter league.

While the Glendale boys lost the first game last Sunday to Lankershim, they will be out to even things up by trimming the Van Nuys outfit, which is a strong team and will make a hard try for the victory. The game will be called at 2:30, and another large crowd will undoubtedly be present.

STRANGLER LEWIS SIGNS FOR BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Promoter Frank Schuler today announced receipt of a telegram from Strangler Lewis, heavyweight champion wrestler, now in Los Angeles, in which Lewis agreed to appear here next Tuesday night against an opponent to be chosen, probably Andreas Costanos, local Spanish grappler.

BEARS ARRIVE FROM NORTH FOR U. S. C. GAME; TROJAN LINEUP IS STILL IN DOUBT

Bruins Determined to Win; Troy Is Buzzing With Activity, But Henderson Is Still Gloomy; Trojans Praying for Wet Field

Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game in Southern California, the Golden Bears of the University of California will clash with the Trojan eleven of U. S. C. at the Los Angeles Coliseum tomorrow afternoon. About 60,000 seats have already been sold, while returns by evening should indicate many more and 15,000 general admission tickets will be placed on sale immediately before the game tomorrow, which starts at 2:30, and the gates will be open at 11 a. m.

The Coliseum is located in Exposition Park and is reached from either Figueroa or Vermont. Ample parking space will be provided. There will be special cars from the downtown section of Los Angeles by the Los Angeles railway. Prospects of rain before the game give a slight advantage to the Trojans who are better on a wet field than are the Bears.

GUS IS UNDECIDED

Troy rumbles with action and "Gloomy Gus" Henderson moans dismally this week as the University of Southern California football eleven, minus the services of its two leading backfield "aces," Gordon Campbell and Wallace "Chief" Newman, goes through its paces on historic Bovard Field in preparation for Saturday's game with the Golden Bears of California.

The team is working hard and earnestly to round itself into shape for the biggest game on the U. S. C. schedule. Meanwhile, the day before the game, Henderson gropes about him searching for the proper backfield combination to replace the power that was lost when Campbell suffered a set of broken ribs and Newman went down with tonsilitis.

"We are forty percent weaker than last year and California will beat us by 21 points," is Henderson's prediction whenever anyone tries to get a statement out of him.

Ask him how he figures that way and he says he has no backfield. Ask him what men he will start and he says he hasn't got four men whom he would think of starting. Then he walks away scratching his head. So does the interviewer.

BEARS ARE HERE

Like a mighty army arriving at the front to engage in a tremendous campaign, the result of which will spell a terrible defeat on decisive victory, the University of California football team, led by Andy Smith and Captain Don Nichols, stepped off the train from the north at the Southern Pacific depot at 9:30 this morning. Wearing that famous smile that characterizes the spirit of the Golden Bear, Andy acknowledges the mighty cheers of the throng of rooters who had come to the depot to meet the Bruin eleven. Rooters from the north were there too, some of them had come down on the train with the team, others arrived yesterday, while there are many due to arrive between now and time for the game.

California supporters who met the Blue and Gold team were led by the pep band of the University of California, Southern Branch, which played California rooting songs as the team stepped off the train. More than a thousand rooters from the Southern Branch of the Blue and Gold institution came down to the train to meet the gridiron warriors, the men with their blue and gold rooters' hats, and the women with their new blue and gold 'kerchiefs draped across their shoulders. A long string of automobiles decorated in the California colors, escorted the team through the business section of Los Angeles to the campus of the Southern Branch on Vermont avenue, and from there to the Ambassador hotel.

Andy Smith refused to divulge anything about his team. He declared that the public already knows all that he could tell them. He seems to be fairly well decided as to his lineup. The men are all in great condition, and rarin' to go. Those on the sick list have recovered, and are expected to be in their places tomorrow.

The California fans are rabid for a victory. So is the team. If it is within the power of the Golden Bear to humble the mighty Trojan, he will do so without the slightest hesitation. Gone is the old carefree spirit, or the old spirit of "we can win any time we please." In its stead is the determination to win, win by any score so long as it is a victory. And of course, they will fight feverishly to keep one Cardinal and Gold player from crossing the California goal line.

DYNAMITERS FACE ALHAMBRA ELEVEN

Accompanied by a delegation of several hundred loyal rooters, the Glendale high school football team journeyed to Alhambra to take on the gridders of that city in a Central league game. The two teams lined up against each other on the Alhambra gridiron at 3:30 before a large crowd of rooters.

Glendale had the edge on their opponents before the game, although the Dynamiters were outweighed more than 20 pounds to the man. Playing the open field game the Glendale bunch have little to fear in spite of superior weight, for they are as fast as they make them.

Glendale's victory over Monrovia last week, together with the defeat of Alhambra at the hands of Covina had much to do with making the Dynamiters the favorites for today's match. The two teams lined up as follows:

GLENDALE		ALHAMBRA
Horri	R.E.	Nye
Phillips	R.T.	Cole
Brucker	R.G.	Davis
Zaun	C.	Kingman
Morrison	L.G.	Lewis

ARMISTICE DAY GAMES WILL BE GOOD

Caltech to Meet Oxy at Pasadena; Cubs to Play Redlands

Although the original Armistice day five years ago brought with it a complete cessation of hostilities Monday's celebration, in which the various Southern California Conference teams will take part, has no such aspect for the rival elevens, it being a day of genuine gridiron warfare with six aggregations of tanbark athletes out for blood. From all advance reports they'll probably get just that, for the games carded are real he-man affairs.

California Tech, a rather superb gathering of large and rangy young men, plays host at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, to Coach Joseph Pipal and a score or so of his choicest Occidental representatives, and with what correct social etiquette the Engineers entertain the Tigers all depends on how nicely the Bengals behave when they are away from home. If the visiting eleven starts in to make the afternoon a rough one they are apt to find that two can play at the same game, and it would not surprise us a bit to see the big and willing Engineers muss up the nice Oxy Tiger considerably. On the other hand, should the Bengals behave a bit sluggish, from the effects of a large meal or perhaps a bit of over-confidence then "Fox" Stanton's men will be the first to take advantage of the golden opportunity, even as they did against the sleeping Sagehens not so long ago.

The Oxy-Caltech game is to be played at the Rose Stadium, Pasadena, under the management of the American Legion. There will be a regular Armistice day program in connection. The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock.

In one way it will be a genuine Armistice day for Southern Branch and Redlands, who play at Moore field. The Cubs have been up against two of the best teams in the loop, Pomona and Whittier, while the poor Bulldogs have been forced to take three defeats in a row from Oxy, Pomona and Caltech. For these two teams the afternoon will at least be a surcease from championship contending teams, and more than likely a game worth watching will ensue. The Cubs have a good line, while the Baptists probably possess the best backfield of the two, although Loren Peake is a better line plunger than anything the Redlands team can offer.

MIDGETS WALLOP ALHAMBRA CREW BY 34 TO 2 COUNT

Glendale Lightweights Give Great Exhibition of Football

By FAIRFIELD WILSON

The Glendale midget eleven trounced the Alhambra team 34 to 2 on Moyse field yesterday afternoon. The game was the best exhibition of football the 130-pounders have given this season. If a judgment of their ability can be formed from this game, they are a mighty strong aggregation and stand a great chance of the much-desired pennant.

The next period was interesting due to the fact that the pigskin changed hands four times on intercepted passes. The last one of these was accomplished by Neal of Glendale who placed the ball on the three-yard line. La Franchi scored and Lovell converted. Glendale had just received when the whistle was blown for the half. At the very last Muff managed to squeeze the oval over and the count was 34 to 2 in favor of the Dynamiters.

The line-ups were as follows:

GLENDALE		ALHAMBRA
Lee	R.E.	Robertson
Green	R.T.	Estes
Heiderman	R.G.	Wheatman
Neal	C.	Bruner
Worley	L.G.	Guffy
Read	L.T.	Gody
Jonkey	L.E.	Kingford
La Franchi	Q.	Harman
Muff	R.H.	Rough
McAllister	L.H.	Manual
Lovell	F.	Engerdage

AUTO REPAIRING

"SO EASY"
Clutch Attachment for Chevrolet Cars
There is nothing so annoying or injurious as the constant grabbing of a clutch which has a tendency to loosen the mechanical parts from the radiator to the rear end and is extremely unpleasant to the ones riding in the car. After this grabbing has taken place for a short time there is a likelihood of its tearing the whole rear end out, which is an unnecessary expense if you will only realize the clutch of any car needs occasional attention. You will have a smooth, easy but positive action thereby saving yourself expensive repair bills and make riding a pleasure as the SO EASY makes a good clutch better.

MEN AND WOMEN BEGIN TO THINK ALIKE

Two Authorities' Agree Intelligent Thinking Will Banish War

In spite of the fact that America has been called "a nation of morons" because of our proneness to shallow thinking, there are significant signals that mental growth is in progress; that from "the masculine view" and "the feminine view" of the past we are approaching a common view based on certain fundamental principles instead of upon the prejudices of minds biased by sex limitations and habits of thinking.

Mrs. John Robert White of this city tells of attending a meeting of the Civic club of Pasadena during the current week which was addressed by President Millikan of the California Institute of Technology. He urged the general study of science arguing that it would develop better reasoning powers and the students would in time discover that many things could be done away with such as war and kindred disturbances. Among the chief causes of war he reckoned "prejudices," racial, political, religious and social.

In her recent talk to press women of Southern California at a luncheon given in her honor at the Biltmore, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the general federation of women's clubs under which are enrolled nearly a million women, referred to the dark outlook abroad where nations are flying at each others' throats and chaos threatens, saying: "At the peace conference in Washington where all phases of warfare were discussed, we always came back to what Mr. Hughes said: 'The only disarmament is spiritual disarmament, because if you leave hatred it will create new warfare. It seems to me that all the forces around us of the church, of education, of commerce, of even the most brutal ideas of hatred and protest are compelling us to a course that shall make every human life worth living as far as possible. That is the solution of brotherhood.

"I see this great army of women of the United States planning definite ends and I think the great hope of most of them is to keep this great question of world rescue out of partisan politics. We send to Washington groups of men who represent their own gangs or their own local groups. We have a right to ask of our representatives in Washington that they shall represent first the United States and second their own groups.

"We are voters and citizens, thank God, and demanding first that every problem shall be a human problem and that men of war policies shall not represent us in Washington or anywhere else."

DOLLS' FURNITURE

Lolls' furniture that is made of wicker will be sure to delight the heart of the domestically inclined child. Fascinating little chairs, tables, lamps, sofas and an adorable little chaise-lounge are all represented in the collection. The wicker is painted grey or blue and very well made.

FOR THE SMALL BOY

A white corduroy suit for the very small boy that is sure to be becoming has a Russian blouse and short trousers, and is trimmed with bands of narrow white fur.

EXERCISE TO REDUCE HIPS

"By far the great majority of women who take up physical training are interested in the question of reducing their hips. Since the ideal of a perfect figure changed from rounded curves to straight slender lines, women have had to resort to all sorts of expedients to meet the requirements," says a beauty expert. "Clothes can often be persuaded to disguise round shoulders or can make a figure that is a little too stout look slender and a too slender one look more near the happy medium. But hips that are too large refuse to be disguised in modern clothes. Women have found by experience that the only thing to do is to go in for a thorough course of physical training and even then they make the discovery that perfecting the proportion of the hips is most difficult of accomplishment.

"There are several reasons why hips become large and out of proportion to the rest of the body, foremost among them are:

"First—A too great general tendency to fat accumulation.

"Second—Lack of exercise of that part of the body.

"Third—Improper posture.

"Fourth—slight or marked disorders of the internal secretions, which would necessitate the advice of a physician. If a person is overweight, her general weight must be reduced and brought down to normal by means of proper diet in conjunction with exercise.

"It is advisable to go in for as much outdoor exercise as possible, especially those forms of exercise that necessitate free movements of the legs and hips. Cycling, tennis, golf, hiking are all recommended to the woman whose hips are too large, but even the woman who is able to exercise in this way fairly regularly needs special exercises to supplement her outdoor activity if her hips are to be reduced."

BEADED FELT HATS

The familiar cloche gains a new lustre when it is embroidered with small metal beads. These little felt hats are particularly good when the castor and taupe shades are used, and the beading is done in bronze and steel.

Miss Sarah Foulke, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, has been appointed medical director of the American Women's hospital in Greece. Miss Foulke is the sister of Mrs. Carroll Webb of Covina, who is a member of the Monday Afternoon club and the P.-T. A there.

MINT JELLY FOR ROAST LAMB

A method of making a delicious and attractive mint jelly for serving with meat is thus described by an expert cook:

Wash three quarts of grapes, fully grown, but entirely green, and put them over the fire with three pints of boiling water. Cook 15 minutes, breaking and mashing them with a wooden spoon; turn into a jelly bag and drain. Measure the juice and return it to the fire, adding three sprigs of freshly bruised mint; boil for 20 minuites, skim, remove the mint and for each cup of juice add a scant cup of sugar, which has been made hot in the oven. Stir until it boils up, which will be almost instantly; remove any froth that rises and it is ready to pour into glasses. The color will be a very pale, greenish amber. A suspicion of coloring will make it a delicate mint green. This is particularly choice to serve with roast lamb.

HELPING THE HOMELY CHILD

"One of the worst things in the world," says a discerning writer, "is to let a child know that she is homely. The homely child is usually nervous and frequently unhappy. She is often morbid, and grown-ups so seldom realize that the nervousness and unhappiness are caused not just by the homeliness but by the knowledge that the ugly girl 'isn't like other girls.' If your child—or the child whom you are interested in, is a beauty, try to keep her that way. If she isn't a beauty, try to make her one, but never, never tell her that she is ugly or awkward or even 'just plain.'

"Beauty has so many reasons for existing. Not only is it lovely for the possessor but it brings happiness to everyone who is privileged to observe it. You are actually doing a wrong thing if you do not do all you can to make beautiful anyone whom you have an opportunity to influence toward beauty."

Mrs. Charles Landon Donahoe of Oakland, democratic national committee woman for California, predicts that women will receive high positions in the inner councils of party politics in the campaign of 1924 She thinks William G. McAdoo will be the choice of the party in this state.

When the weather changes Your food needs ICE!

The weather doesn't have to be hot to cause rapid deterioration of food. Any time the temperature gets above 50 degrees—and it frequently does during the Fall months—your perishable food is actually spoiling unless it is in the cold, even temperature of a refrigerator.

Perhaps it doesn't spoil sufficiently to be noticeable, but it loses much of its nourishing qualities and is not conducive to good health.

You will find that it pays to take ice regularly all the year around—it pays in the food it saves and in the protection of your family's health.

"PHYSICIAN, HEAL THYSELF," ROCTOR TELLS HIMSELF

Last Sunday Dr. Frank L. Riley, speaking before the New Thought center in the Tuesday Afternoon club house, told of a number of very interesting experiences during his ten months' cojourn on one of the islands off the coast of Mexico.

As is well known Dr. Riley was a medical man, but for years has done only metaphysical healing. In preparing to go to this south sea island, he said it never occurred to him to take any drugs—antidotes for poisonous stings and bites of insects. Within a few days after his arrival there he was stung on the thumb by one of the most poisonous kinds of scorpion. Immediately his helplessness dawned on him, so far as any antidote was concerned. The first instant he was filled with fear and pains began to run from the sting up the hand and arm, and very shortly it began to feel like it was partially paralyzed.

"Then," he said, "I awakened to the fact that I must practice what I had been preaching to you folks in Glendale for six years and treat myself." Continuing, he stated how he immediately treated himself for fear and that as soon as he had eradicated that from his mind, the pain, swelling and seeming paralysis subsided and he was entirely cured and relieved of any evil effects of the poisonous sting.

Mrs. Henry Quinn of Galva, Illinois, arrived in Glendale this morning and is visiting with her nieces, Mrs. Wm. H. Nicholson of 658 Milford street and Mrs. Loren H. Bess of 504 Burchett street.

ARTICLE No. 3

A question that often comes up for discussion among Auction players is whether the bidding or play is the more important. This is a question that will probably never be settled to the complete satisfaction of all but it is fairly easy to select example hands that show the tremendous differences in points caused by different bids. One rarely finds a hand where the loss of a trick or two in the play causes a loss of more than game, and the value of a game is estimated as half a rubber or 125 points.

Most players, therefore, agree that the bidding is infinitely more important than the play. As one well-known writer has expressed it: "The most important part of the game is concluded before the first card leaves the leader's hand." It is only necessary to examine a few hands to satisfy oneself of the truth of this statement. The following hand which was played by three different sets of players for comparative purposes is a fine example of the tremendous differences in points caused by the different bids:

	Hearts — 10, 9, 5, 4, 3 Clubs — A, K, J, 8, 2 Diamonds — A, 10, 6 Spades — None
Hearts — 8 Clubs — 7, 6, 4 Diamonds — Q, 8, 3 Spades — K, Q, J, 10, 7, 5	Y A B Z	Hearts — A, K, 2 Clubs — 3 Diamonds — K, 9, 5, 4 Spades — A, 9, 6, 3, 2
	Hearts — Q, J, 7, 6 Clubs — Q, 10, 9, 5 Diamonds — J, 7, 2 Spades — 3, 4

A was the dealer and bid one spade. At table No. 1, Y doubled one spade. This is a bad double. Y has a two suit hand and should show both of them. B now bid two spades over the double. This is also a bad bid. B should have passed or bid four spades. The bid of two spades is of no value in shutting out a bid. Z figured that B's bid of two spades was intended to prevent a heart bid, so promptly bid three hearts. A bid three spades; Y four hearts; and B doubled. This double was bad, because B should have figured that he could not beat the four heart bid by more than one trick at most. As a result Y-Z made four hearts doubled, scoring 64 points for tricks, 16 points for honors, 50 points for bonus and 125 points for game, a total of 255 points.

At table No. 2, A bid one spade and Y correctly bid two hearts rather than double. With a two suiter always show one of the suits in preference to a double. It is the strongest hand that can be held at Auction, therefore try to play it at one of the two suits, if possible. B now bid two spades; Z and A passed. Y bid three clubs, showing his other suit and thereby requiring his partner to choose which of the two suits offered the best chance for game. B now bid three spades and Z having good cards in both of his partner's suits properly bid four hearts. A bid four spades and Y, a very good player, figuring that his opponents could make their bid, now bid five hearts which B doubled. Y-Z lost their contract by one trick or 100 points less 16 points for honors, a net loss of 84 points. The bidding at this table was correct and gives the correct result of the hand.

At table No. 3, the bidding was the same as at table No. 1, except that B, instead of doubling four hearts, bid four spades. As Y had doubled one spade, Z naturally thought he had a good hand so doubled four spades. Needless to say, A-B made five spades doubled, losing only one club and one diamond. Their score was 90 points for tricks, 81 points for honors, 100 points for bonus, and 125 points for game, a total of 396 points.

At table No. 1, A and B made the mistake of doubling four hearts giving Y-Z a plus score of 255 points. At table No. 2, where both sides bid correctly, Y-Z obtained a minus score of 84 points. At table No. 3, where Y-Z made the mistake of doubling four spades, A-B made a plus score of 396 points. This hand illustrates very well the difference in scores caused by different bids. In comparing the scores of but three sets of players, a difference in point score of 651 points between a plus score of 255 points for Y-Z and 396 points for A-B. This one example is given to call attention to the big swings caused by different bids or doubles and to emphasize the necessity of proper bidding.

Auction is a game of aces and kings and the location of these important cards can only be given to partner by clever and intelligent bidding, based on well recognized conventions. The modern system of informatory bidding is designed to show both by the original and defensive bids the location of the top cards, the so-called quick tricks. The reason for this system is that the game of Auction has two sides, attack and defense. When a player makes an original bid, he does not know whether or not he will get the final bid, or be on the attacking or defending side. He must, therefore, consider both of these angles and make a bid that will be of value to his partner in either alternative.

Problem No. 2

	Hearts — Q, 4 Clubs — K Diamonds — A, K Spades — 10, 8
Hearts — 6 Clubs — Q, 9, 8, 7 Diamonds — 10, 9 Spades — None	Y A B Z	Hearts — 5 Clubs — J, 2 Diamonds — 8, 7 Spades — J, 9
	Hearts — 3 Clubs — A, 10, 6, 5 Diamonds — None Spades — 5, 4

Hearts are trumps and Z is in the lead. The problem is for Z to win six of the seven tricks against any defense. Solution in next article.

More Than 22,000,000 Persons in Zoned Cities

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—More than 22,000,000 people, comprising 40 per cent of the urban population of the United States, live in 183 zoned cities, towns and villages, according to a statement made public today by the division of building and housing of the department of commerce.

During the first eight months of this year 54 municipalities, with more than 6,500,000 population, have adopted zoning ordinances. This indicates the greatest progress in zoning that has ever been made during a similar period. More than two-thirds of the 183 zoned municipalities have been zoned since September, 1921.

Neighborliness in the use of land is said to be the keynote of zoning. The home owner is protected from the intrusion of the junk yard which for no good reason might be moved into his neighborhood, and business and shopping districts are protected against noisy factories. Industrial plants have greater freedom in selecting sites convenient to good transportation. Such measures should provide for the use of the different kinds of land and districts within a city for the purposes to which they are best adapted, and allow for orderly growth of commercial and industrial districts. They accomplish their purposes by regulating the height of buildings, the area of the land that they may cover, and the use to which they may be put in the different districts of the city or town. The zoning ordinance is generally an auxiliary to the city plan, and helps to provide for the orderly growth of the city along lines that will bring the most satisfactory results to all concerned.

Revised figures show that on January 1, 1923, 129 municipalities had adopted zoning regulations. During the year 54 more, some large and some small, located north, south, east and west, have been added to the list. Of the 68 cities in the United States with over 100,000 population, 36 have zoning ordinances in effect. Chicago, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Mo., Seattle, Providence, Columbus, Worcester, Grand Rapids and Youngstown are among the larger cities which have adopted zoning ordinances this year. The smallest community to adopt a zoning ordinance in 1923 had only 420 inhabitants, according to the last census. Twenty-one towns and villages of less than 10,000 inhabitants adopted zoning regulations in 1923. Seventeen communities with 10,000 to 50,000 population, and 16 cities with more than 50,000 population also zoned during the year.

In the number of places zoned, New Jersey leads with 51; New York is second with 30; Illinois, third with 23; California, fourth, with 17; Ohio, fifth, with 13; Massachusetts, sixth, with 11; Wisconsin, seventh, with 10, and Missouri, eighth, with four. Indiana, Kansas and Michigan have three each; Rhode Island and Washington have two each; and Georgia, Maryland, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Virginia have one each. The District of Columbia also is zoned.

More new state zoning enabling legislation has been passed in 1923 than usual, and the standard state zoning enabling act which was prepared by the Department of Commerce, was used to a greater or less extent in most of the laws. Connecticut, Delaware, Iowa, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Wyoming passed important zoning enabling acts, and a number of other states passed legislation supplementing or amending existing laws. The state of Wisconsin has passed an act granting to counties the power to zone.

The principle invloved is the greater exercise of the sense of smell. The book includes excellent menus both for reducing and for gaining weight. Other books on diet are: "What to Eat in Health and Disease," by Benjamin Harrow and "What to Eat and How to Prepare it," by Monaghan.

If more people would read the many good books in the libraries on hygiene and dietetics, many a doctor's bill would be saved.

Some New Books of Travel

"The Real South America," by Domville-Fife; "Silent Highways of the Jungle," by Dyott, dealing with the Andes and upper Amazon; "Cast and Outcast," by Mukerji, a description of daily oriental life by a native of India.

History

"Growth of the French Nation," by Adams; "European History," by Wakeman; "Development of Modern Europe," by Robinson; "Readings in Mediaeval and Modern History," by Webster; "The Life and Times of Tut-Ankh-Amen," by Nahas.

BUSTER BROWN'S ADVANCE STYLES IN SHOES ALLURE

The Buster Brown Shoe store at 122 North Brand anounces the recent arrival of some of the newest modes in ladies' shoes. The store's eastern buyer was able to get these advance styles at a figure which makes the retail prices below normal.

The lot offered includes a large assortment of styles and shades, ranging from low heel novelty oxfords to dainty strap pumps, in all the desired leathers. Every lady in Glendale should avail herself of the chance to get the latest at a low price.

William Winkler, proprietor, coming here a little over a year ago, has built up a business which is altogether gratifying. His experience in the shoe business in other cities has helped to make his store one of the largest retailers of fine footwear in the city. A full line of men's high grade famous Buster Brown line is in shoes is also carried, while the stock for the kiddies.

It seems to me that the gentleman pays American women a false compliment. We may have inherited the grace of our wild ancestors of two bare centuries ago, but the fact is that most of them came from abroad. Under the circumstances it is only fair to say that they imported their wildness. America should not be blamed or praised for that.

Be not afraid. The song is sweet,
The path is open at thy feet.
Thy soul with faith and purpose stayed,
Press on and be not once afraid.

Be not afraid. The way be long
Today and hot, tomorrow's song
Is just beyond, and we shall find
The haven, how the paths may wind.
Be not afraid. With eyes grown clear
We'll find the roses of good cheer
Beside tse way; be not dismayed,
But hope on and be not afraid.

Be not afraid. With soul serene,
With fear cast out and every mean
And petty thing, this much is sure
That if thy spirit shall endure
With faith and trust and purpose fair
The victory awaits somewhere,
The garland on thy brow be laid,
So to the task; be not afraid.

"STRANGERS OF THE NIGHT"

Meet Captain Applejack—"as mild a manner man as ever scuttled a ship."

A pirate mystery drama, warmed with love, spiced with comedy, played by big stars.

Laughter and terror in a wild race over the Spanish Main—wherein hearts are young and pirates bold and life's a dance of love and gold.

AT THE THEATRES

HAD TROUBLE IN FINDING MAN OLD ENOUGH TO PLAY

Harry Millarde, the director of the William Fox screen version of the A. S. M. Hutchinson story, "If Winter Comes," which has its last showings at the Glendale theatre today, wanted an old rustic for one of the scenes, while filming the picture in England. At that moment appeared an old man hobbling along on a stick, who, on being asked his age, answered, "Eighty-five."

"You're not old enough," commented the director.

"I've got a pal who's younger'n me. 'E's 73, but looks 90," declared the old man, chuckling.

He was persuaded to fetch his "young pal," who proved to be admirably suited for the part.

"That's the feller," said Mr. Millarde, as he patted him on the back. "He looks 90 all right!"

"I do not!" indignantly exclaimed the ancient one. "I was ta'en for 65 only the other day, wi' my Sunday hat on I don't look that."

Only the promise of an extra shilling appeased the old man's wrath, and as Mr. Millarde rode out of the village he caught a glimpse of old 85 and his "young pal" moving in the direction of the local "pub" to drink his health and wish him a speedy return.

HE FLEW BLACK FLAG IN SPITE OF ADMIRAL EBERLE

Considerable discussion was aroused on the Pacific coast during the screening of "Strangers of the Night," now showing at the Gateway theatre, as to what course the government would take in the face of Fred Niblo's defiance of the United States admiralty laws in flying the black flag of a pirate ship from the peak of a square rigged brig docked at Long Beach, California. The flag was hoisted by Robert Ellis, art director.

Admiral Eberle of the United States navy started the controversy that dragged on for some time, causing the loss of time and money to the company. It seemed that the flag could not be flown without the sanction of the government as it was ruled out by the admiralty laws.

The government, when asked for the permission, held up the matter so long that Fred Niblo took the responsibility on his own shoulders and went right on with his picture.

"Strangers of the Night" is the second of the series of Fred Niblo production presented by Louis B. Mayer and distributed by Metro Pictures corporation. It is adapted from the Sam H. Harris stage success, "Captain Applejack," by Walter Hackett. The scenario was prepared by Bess Meredyth and the photography was in charge of Alvin Wyckoff.

SCIOTS ARE ASKED TO "DIG DEEP" FOR UNIFORM FUND

Here is an extract from the letter to individual Sciots by the "head kick:"

"At our last regular meeting on Friday night after the reading of reports and a partial check on the circus we found that our profits were not quite large enough to outfit our band and send them to the state convention at San Diego on November 15, and owing to the fact that it is the desire of the pyramid to send our band away in good shape, giving them every opportunity to bring back all honors, we decided that the best method was to take up a donation right then and there, which we did.

"The hats were passed around, and with about a hundred Sciots present we succeeded in raising $300. Some of the boys dug for a few dollars; some dug down deeper for five or ten; and one dug still deeper and brought out a hundred dollars.

"Now the question is, if you are in a position to do a little digging, don't wait, as immediate action is what we need. Sit right down now and draw your check—or better still, drop in to see George H. Thomas, our chancellor, who is chairman of this special fund for the band. Give him what you can, but dig deep, if possible, for we "sure nuff" need the money."
